DR. J BOVEE DODS'

IMPERIAL WINE,

BITTERS,

ARE made from a pure and unadulterated Wine, which is about double the usual strength of other Wines, and is imported by only one house in the United States. Also, from the following valuable Roots, Herbs, &c, viz: Solomon's Seal, Spikenard, Cammomile Flowers, Gentian, Wild Cherry Tree Bark, and Bayberry.

WE CHALLENGE

THEIR EQUAL!

We do not profess to have discovered some Roots "known only to the Indians of South America," and a cure for "all diseases which flesh is heir to," but we claim to present to the public a truly valuable preparation, which every intelligent Physician in the country will approve of and recommend. As a remedy for

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Weak Lungs, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Nervous System. Paralysis, Piles, Diseases peculiar to Females, Debility, and all cases requiring a Tonic, they are

UNSURPASSED!

For Sore Throat, so common among the Clergy, they are truly valuable.

For the aged and infirm, or for persons of a weak constitution—for Ministers of the Gospel, Lawyers, and all public speakers—for Book-Keepers, Tailors, Seamstresses, Students, Artists, and all persons leading a sedentary life, they will prove truly beneficial.

As a Beverage, they are wholesome, innocent, and delicious to the taste. They produce all the exhilarating effects of Brandy or Wine, without intoxicating; and are a valuable remedy for persons addicted to excessive use of strong drink, and wish to refrain from it. They are pure and entirely free from the poison contained in the adulterated Wines and Liquors with which the country is flooded.

These Bitters not only CURE, but PREVENT Disease, and should be used by all who live in a country where the water is bad, or where Chills and Fevers are prevalent. Being entirely innocent and harmless, they may be given freely to Children and Infants with impunity.

Physicians, Clergymen and temperance advocates, as an act of humanity, should assist in spreading these truly valuable BITTERS over the land, and thereby essentially aid in banishing Drunkenness and Disease.

AN ACT Providing for a vote of the people on an amendment to the Constitution.

The People of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. At the general election to be held on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday of November, in the year 1862, the qualified electors of this state may vote for or against the amendment of the Constitution agreed to by the last and present legislatures, and published before the last general election, as provided by the Constitution, which amendment is as follows: That Section five of Article five of the Constitution be amended so as to read as follows: "Sec. 5. The Governor shall receive during his continuance in office, an annual compensation of two thousand five hundred dollars."

SECTION 2. The votes cast on such amendment shall be by a separate ballot, and shall have written or printed, or partly printed or written on each of them, the words, "For the amendment to the Constitution," or "Against the amendment to the Constitution," which words shall indicate the vote for or against the ratification and adoption of such amendment. The ballots so cast shall be canvassed and returned in the same manner as the votes for state officers are required by law to be canvassed and returned. Also, the Secretary of State shall immediately on the completion of said canvass, publish a statement of the result thereof in the state paper, and if a majority of all the electors voting thereon shall vote "for the amendment to the Constitution," such amendment shall be deemed ratified and adopted, and shall go into effect immediately, otherwise it shall be of no force or effect.

Approved April 4, 1862.

At the same election, the question will be taken upon the approval by the people of the amendments proposed to the General Banking Law, by Chapter 203 of the General Laws of 1862, as amended by Chapter 354 of the General Laws of 1862, as follows:

AN ACT To amend Chapter 71 of the Revised Statutes, entitled "of the Incorporation of Banking Associations"

The People of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. No bank or banking association shall demand or receive a greater or higher rate of interest upon any note discounted by such bank or banking association, or for the loan or forbearance of any money, goods or things in action, than seven dollars upon one hundred dollars for one year, and after that rate for a greater or less sum, or for a longer or shorter time. Whenever the securities deposited with the State Treasurer to secure the redemption of the circulating notes of any bank, shall be sold in pursuance of sections forty-one and forty-two of said chapter 71 [of the] Revised Statutes, if such securities shall be or have been sold for a sum sufficient to redeem its outstanding notes at par, then the Bank Comptroller shall, after the expiration of three years from the time of sale of such securities, pay over to the legal representative of any such bank, upon application therefor, the surplus derived from the sale of said securities, if any there be remaining in the custody of the Comptroller.

SECTION 2. At the general election to be held on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, A. D. 1862, at all the places of holding elections in this state for the election of officers required by law then to be elected, the question whether this act shall become a law and go into effect, or in any manner be in force, shall be submitted to the people; and if the same shall be approved by a majority of all the votes cast on the subject, it shall go into effect; otherwise, it shall not go into effect nor be in force.

SECTION 3. The votes cast on the subject specified in the last preceding section, shall be by separate ballot, and shall have written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, on each of them, the words "for amendment to the banking law," or "against amendment to banking law," which words shall indicate the vote for or against the approval of this act; and the ballots so cast shall be canvassed and returned in the same manner as the votes cast for state officers are required by law to be returned and canvassed; and the Secretary of State shall, immediately on the completion of said canvass, publish a statement of the result thereof in the official state paper, and shall communicate the same to the next legislature at the commencement of the session; and he shall also deliver to the State Treasurer a certified copy thereof, with a statement of the result of the canvass upon the subject, immediately after the completion of the canvass.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after the twentieth day of January, A. D. 1863.

SECTION 5. All acts or parts of acts conflicting with or in any way contravening the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

Chapter 203 approved April 4, 1862; chapter 354 approved June 17, 1862.

Said election to be conducted, the votes canvassed and returns made, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 7 of the Revised Statutes of 1858.

DR. J BOVEE DODS' IMPERIAL WINE BITTERS,

ARE made from a pure and unadulterated Wine, which is about double the usual strength of other Wines, and is imported by only one house in the United States. Also, from the following valuable Roots, Herbs, &c., viz: Solomon's Seal, Spikenard, Camomile Flowers, Gentian, Wild Cherry Tree Bark, and Bayberry.

THEIR EQUAL!

We do not profess to have discovered some Roots "known only to the Indians of South America," and a cure for "all diseases which flesh is heir to," but we claim to present to the public a truly valuable preparation, which every intelligent Physician in the country will approve of and recommend. As a remedy for

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Weak Lungs, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Nervous System, Paralysis, Piles, Diseases peculiar to Females, Debility, and all cases requiring a Tonic, they are

UNSURPASSED!

For Sore Throat, so common among the Clergy, they are truly valuable.

For the aged and infirm, or for persons of a weak constitution—for Ministers of the Gospel, Lawyers, and all public speakers—for Book-Keepers, Tailors, Seamstresses, Students, Artists, and all persons leading a sedentary life, they will prove truly beneficial.

As a Beverage, they are wholesome, innocent, and delicious to the taste. They produce all the exhilarating effects of Brandy or Wine, without intoxicating; and are a valuable remedy for persons addicted to excessive use of strong drink, and wish to refrain from it. They are pure and entirely free from the poison contained in the adulterated Wines and Liquors with which the country is flooded.

These Bitters not only CURE, but PREVENT Disease, and should be used by all who live in a country where the water is bad, or where Chills and Fevers are prevalent. Being entirely innocent and harmless, they may be given freely to Children and Infants with impunity.

Physicians, Clergymen and temperance advocates, as an act of humanity, should assist in spreading these truly valuable BITTERS over the land, and thereby essentially aid in banishing Drunkenness and Disease.

The War in Maryland.

Our forenoon dispatches, although they do not give us a clear idea of the series of battles which have taken place during the last four days, in Maryland, opposite Harper's Ferry, all tend to the conclusion that the rebels have, so far, been badly whipped. Yesterday's news indicated that they had generally left the Maryland side of the Potomac, but it now seems that this was not the case. Our forces have got between them and the river, while they appear to be making every exertion to cross.

Stonewall Jackson was yesterday reported to be in Virginia, at Harper's Ferry, but he now appears to have joined Lee with 40,000 men, on Antetam Creek, in Maryland, probably not far from the battle ground of Sunday. This hardly looks like the utter annihilation of the rebel army, as some of the dispatches report. Possibly he may be there with fresh troops to guard the rear of the retreating rebel army.

It will be noticed that heavy firing was heard yesterday, in the direction of Drainesville, 15 miles from Washington on the south side of the Potomac. This would indicate that a corps of ous army is advancing to the scene of conflict on the Virginia side of the river. As we have not heard the name of Sigel mentioned in connection with the battles near Frederick, we may suppose that he leads the army into Virginia, and that he had met some of the enemy south of Leesburg. It would be very convenient to have an army of fresh troops in the rear of the rebel army to prevent their retreat, either by Leesburg or up the Shenandoah Valley. We hope Sigel is there for that purpose.

The news this afternoon is still better. Burnside has retaken Harper's Ferry, the rebels were defeated in a terrible battle yesterday, the Potomac river is rising, and the rebel army in Maryland is hemmed in on every side and must surrender. We have already taken 15,000 prisoners, including the remnants of Longstreet's division. We may expect, however, to hear of terrible loss on both sides, as both armies fought with desperation.

Organizing the Militia.

Gov. Yates, of Illinois, has issued a proclamation calling for the organization of two hundred companies of troops under the militia laws of that state, to repel invasion or to be used as a reserved force in case of emergency. Agents have been sent to purchase arms for twenty regiments. As soon as they arrive the companies will be formed into regiments. In the meantime these companies are ordered to meet for drill once a week. This does not interfere with the organization of the ordinary militia of the state, which is to proceed under the new enrollment.

The governor of Illinois acts wisely in putting his state on a war footing. The times are perilous and require vigilance. Our people should accept the necessity of their position and become better acquainted with military duties, so that they may be prepared to defend their homes and their dear bought liberties, whenever attacked. A well-armed and thoroughly drilled people can never be enslaved, if they possess a martial spirit, such as we know prevails the American nation. In the long years of peace we have dreamed that there was to be no more war, and that the golden age of a millenium was advancing. But our philosophy has carried us beyond the real condition of mankind. There is as much selfishness as ever, and there is as great danger from ambitious military demagogues, as in any age of the world. Perhaps we as a nation now stand on the brink of some unseen gulf, prepared by a usurper, from which we alone can be saved by the prompt arming of the people of the states. In times like these we should prepare for the worst.

We are, therefore, glad to see our own legislature promptly passing a militia bill, so that Wisconsin may take her stand, her people armed and organized for war, alongside of Illinois, in any emergency which these bloody times may have in store for our country.

Splendid Conduct of Wisconsin Troops.

A GLORIOUS RECORD.

Correspondence of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11, 1862.

On Saturday, August 9th, King's division, consisting of Hatch's, Doubleday's, Patrick's and Gibbon's brigades, was at Fredericksburg, where it had been stationed some six or seven weeks, guarding the line of the Rappahannock River. The brigades were thus composed:

Hatch's—2d regiment Berdan Sharpshooters, 14th New York militia, 22d, 24th and 13th New York volunteers.

Doubleday's—56th Pennsylvania, 76th and 95th New York.

Patrick's—20th New York militia, 21st, 23d and 35th New York volunteers.

Gibbon's—2d, 6th and 7th Visconsin volunteers, and 19th Indiana.

Attached to the division were four batteries of artillery, viz: company B, 4th United States artillery; company D, Rhode Island; company I, New Hampshire; and company L, 1st New York—in all 24 pieces, 12 Napoleon 12-pounders, six 24-pounders howitzers and six rifled 3-inch ordnance guns.

On the afternoon of the 9th a telegraphic order was received from Gen. Pope, directing the division to join him at Cedar Mountain, 43 miles distant, where a severe battle was fought on the same day, between Jackson's forces and the corps of General Banks. The leading brigades were put in motion the same evening, the others followed at daylight, and the whole division effected its junction with the forces of Gen. Pope on the evening of the 11th.

From the 11th to the 18th the division remained in position around the base of Cedar Mountain, there being occasional skirmishing in front, along the line of the Rapidan, with the outposts and pickets of the enemy. On the 18th it was ascertained that Gens. Longstreet and Jackson, with a force variously reported at from 100,000 to 150,000 men, were advancing to attack Pope, who had not over 50,000. It was decided that Pope's army should fall back beyond the Rappahannock and there await reinforcements known to be coming up. The movement commenced the same evening. King's division marched early Tuesday morning, August 19th, and nightfall reached the Rappahannock. On Wednesday they were placed in position on the north bank of the river. Very early on Thursday morning, the enemy, who had followed up closely, opened fire from the south bank of the river. Our batteries promptly replied and the artillery duel continued, at intervals, for three successive days. The division was drawn up by brigades, within supporting distance of the batteries, and a small force of the enemy's cavalry and infantry, who had ventured to cross the river, was driven back, with loss, by the skirmishers of the 2d and 6th Wisconsin and other regiments.

On Saturday came the news of the enemy's raid in our rear, and the capture, or destruction of a part of our train at Catlett's. The train of King's division escaped; the guards attached to it having gallantly repulsed three separate attacks of the enemy's cavalry. In consequence of the enemy's movement, Pope's army moved from the Rappahannock to Warrenton, where they arrived on the evening of the 23d. On the 25th the division advanced to the Sulphur Springs, seven miles, to watch the fords of the Rappahannock and the movements of Jackson's forces on the south side of the river. Here they remained until the 28th, under fire much of the time and having one or two sharp skirmishes with the enemy's advance.

On Thursday, the 28th, it being evident that the great body of the enemy had passed round our right and was threatening our rear, Pope's army was ordered back towards Manassas. King's division was directed to move through Warrenton to Gainesville, and thence towards Centreville. Late in the afternoon, when the leading brigade, (Hatch's) had got three or four miles beyond Gainesville, Gibbon's brigade, following on the same road, fell in with and was attacked by a superior force—infantry and artillery—of the enemy, forming, as was afterwards ascertained, the right wing of Jackson's corps. The brigade was instantly deployed in line of battle, the 6th Wisconsin on the right, next the 7th, the 2d and the 19th Indiana. Campbell's artillery, placed in position, opened fire, very effectively, on the enemy. Doubleday's brigade was ordered up to Gibbon's support, while Hatch was recalled and Patrick hurried up, to take position on the right and left.

Meantime the fire of the enemy, both artillery and infantry, became exceedingly hot. The sixth Wisconsin, advancing in line of battle under this fire, coolly and steadily, was halted by its heroic colonel, Cutler, at the proper distance, dressed on the centre, and then deliberately opened its fire. On the left, the nineteenth Indiana and second Wisconsin, engaged at close quarters and admirably led, were making fearful havoc in the enemy's ranks. The seventh Wisconsin, moving up into position, between the sixth and second, and being partially masked by the lattter, first obliqued to the left, and then, finding itself exposed to a flank as well as front fire, first silenced the last; then, under its gallant colonel's orders, changed front forward on its left company, as coolly as if on drill, and crossing its fire with that of the second and nineteenth, effectually checked the threatening advance of the enemy's line. In this way, for an hour and a half, and until it grew so dark that it was no longer possible to distinguish objects, the fierce fight continued. The enemy made repeated and desperate attempts to dislodge Gibbon's brigade, but in every instance their advancing columns, melting away under the withering fire of a steady front, were compelled themselves to fall back. Night, at length, put an end to the conflict, and each side became occupied in gathering up the dead and wounded. Gibbon's brigade, on whom the brunt of the action had fallen, suffered fearfully. Col. O'Conner, of the second, and Major May, of the nineteenth, were mortally hurt. Col. Cutler, of the sixth, Col. Robinson, Lieut. Col. Hamilton and Major Bill, of the seventh, and Major Allen, of the second, all received severe wounds. The proportion of killed and wounded among the officers was unusually large, showing how gallant an example they had set to their men. The total list of casualties in the brigade, 782 killed, wounded and missing, told how bravely they had stood their ground and defied the utmost efforts of the enemy. Lieut. Col. Hamilton, shot through both thighs, his horse wounded under him, and falling dead at last on the field, remained with his regiment an hour after he was hit, and until, in obedience to orders, he withdrew it from the ground and posted it in line along the road by which the column had been marching. So far as is known, not an officer or man of the command flinched from his post, or failed of his duty. Tried by the severe ordeal of battle, the brigade has justified its high reputation, and proved worthy representatives of Wisconsin and Indiana.

It was nine o'clock before the firing ceased. Then came the question, what next is to be done? The enemy, in greatly superior force, barred the way by which the division was advancing. The only alternative was to deflect to the right to join the bulk of Pope's army in the vicinity of Manassas. This indeed involved the painful, yet unavoidable necessity, of leaving behind our killed and wounded. These latter were placed in charge of Dr. Ward, of the 2d, and Dr. Green, of the 19th Indiana, and made as comfortable as our means permitted. Soon after midnight the division took up its silent march toward Manassas, and effected, unmolested, the desired junction.

Early on Friday morning (Aug. 29) several divisions of Pope's army, including King's, were put in motion towards the battle field of Bull Run, and became engaged, at various intervals during the day, and in various positions, with different corps of the enemy. It was rather a series of conflicts between isolated divisions or corps, than a great battle between two contending armies. Whether from imperfection in the original plan, misunderstanding of orders; or failure, from causes unknown, of some divisions, or corps, to take up, in season, the places assigned to them, the result of Friday's fight was inconclusive. King's division bore its part, and was in its place during the day, though not so seriously engaged as on the day preceding. Both sides slept on their arms, anticipating a renewal of the contest in the morning.

With the dawn of Saturday (Aug. 30th) active movements commenced. The morning was mainly occupied, on both sides, in shifting the positions of different corps, placing artillery in elegible points, and reconnoitering each other's lines and operations. Beyond the discharge of an occasional gun, little occurred to show that two large armies lay in immediate proximity to each other, watching the opportunity to fall on. Midday, indeed, had passed and the afternoon was well advanced before the battle was fairly joined; but when it did commence it was in bloody earnest. For several hours the roar of artillery and rattle of musketry was fearful and incessant, without perceptible advantage on either side. At five o'clock the fire was at its height, the thunder of the cannon continuous and the infantry vollies one unbroken peal. It was about this time that the left, pressed by superior numbers, began slowly to give ground. King's division was in this part of the field and gallantly maintained the reputation they had so bravely won two days before. Gradually, regiment after regiment, brigade after brigade, withdrew from the fire and pressed, some in order, some in confusion, to the rear. Gibbon's brigade, formed in two lines, undismayed by the unfavorable aspect of the battle, presented its steady front to the enemy, only falling back when ordered to do so, as their flanks became exposed by the retiring of their supports on the right and left.—They fell back, as they had advanced, in perfect order; no break in the ranks, no panic among officers or men. The 6th Wisconsin, the very last to retire, marched slowly and steadily to the rear; faced to the front again, as they reached their new position, and saluted the approaching enemy with three cheers and a rattling volley. Every Wisconsin man who heared those cheers, felt his heart thrill with pride for the gallant fellows who gave them.

The giving way of the left wing decided the second battle of Bull Run against us. The whole army took up its march for Centreville. But it was a retreat, not a rout. Our exhausted troops fell back, slowly and sullenly. Gibbon's brigade covered the rear, not leaving the field till after nine o'clock at night; gathering up the stragglers, as they marched; preventing confusion, and showing so steady a line that the enemy made no attempt to molest them.

On the 31st, the division took up ground in rear of Centreville, and two days afterwards, with the rest of the army, fell back to the lines around Washington.

This brief narrative would not be complete without a statement of the loss sustained by the division during the three memorable days, August 28th, 29th and 30th. It is as follows, in killed, wounded and missing, there being very few of the latter:

Hatch's Brigade	773
Doubleday's Brigade	447
Patrick's Brigade	569
Gibbon's Brigade	891
Artillery	46
	2,728

The effective strength of the division, when it went into action, on the afternoon of the 28th, was about 8500. The loss, therefore, was very nearly one-third of the whole force engaged, and that of Gibbon's brigade almost forty per cent. These figures tell their own story. Well may Wisconsin feel proud of her gallant sons of the Second, Sixth and Seventh regiments. Their names belong to the roll of our country's heroes. BADGER.

Legislative.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 17.

In the SENATE, the bill in relation to the enrollment of the militia was considered in committee of the whole. An amendment was adopted making all between the ages of 18 and 45 liable to service. A motion to exempt members of fire and military companies was rejected by a unanimous vote, and another amendment to exempt certain city officers was lost. The bill was then passed. A resolution to adjourn sine die on the 20th inst. was laid over.

In the ASSEMBLY, Mr. Guernsey presented a petition of the supervisors and other citizens of the town of Porter for the passage of an act legalizing the vote of a town meeting for raising money for volunteer bounty.

A communication from Attorney General Howe was read, in relation to the constitutionality of allowing volunteers the right of suffrage, in which he gave a decided opinion in favor of the measure.

The bill to extend the benefits of the bounty fund to all volunteers, and to levy and raise a tax for the same, was read a third time and passed; all present voting in the affirmative with the exception of Mr. Platto.

The senate bill, to enable the militia and volunteers to exercise the right of suffrage, was read first and second times and referred to select committee on that subject.

IMPORTANT DISPATCH.—The Madison Patriot says: A dispatch was received last night from Gen. Pope, requesting that no more regiments should be sent from the state. A dispatch was also received from Maj. Gen. Wright, at Cincinnati, urging the sending on of Wisconsin regiments. With these conflicting orders before him, the governor telegraphed to Washington for instructions, and the departure of the 25th regiment has been delayed until they are received.

JUSTICE TO THE SOLDIERS.—The following is the vote in the senate on the passage of the bill allowing citizens in the army to vote:

Ayes—Senators Bartlett, Bean, Browne, Flint, Foot, Hazleton, Hay, Hopkins, Humphrey, Jenkins, Joiner, Kingston, Kelsey, Montgomery, Spooner, H. S. Thorpe, West, Wilkinson and Young—19.

Noes—Senators Clark, Cunning, Hicks, Hudd, Huebschman, Keogh and Pratt—7.

OSHKOSH, Sept. 17.

At the democratic congressional convention held in this city, to-day, Hon. John Fitzgerald was nominated for congress from this district.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.

The following extract from a letter received at the war department, dated Mesilla, Arazonia, Aug. 15th, 1862, shows with how little an army may be moved. It must be remembered that the California troops marched through a desert country where no provisions or forage could be obtained, therefore everthing for horse and man was carried with them; yet, with a train with less than that of a regiment not marching fifty miles from Washington, they have averaged fifteen miles a day for nearly sixty days. The first infantry and cavalry California volunteers have successfully marched one thousand miles, over the route by the Colorado desert, Gila river, Tucson and Mimbreez, from the Pacific to the Rio Grande. This they have done with the loss of ten men by Indian and rebel skirmishes, with abundant supplies and a serviceable train, and reached the western border of Texas in condition for immediate contest with the enemy. Officers and men have shared the hardships of march alike, without tents and without baggage. One wagon was sufficient to transport ten days' rations and the property of each company. For fully half the distance, over burning districts, in mid-summer, with scanty supply of water, the men have uncomplainingly carried their knapsacks. They have only been too well satisfied at every step that carried them nearer to the heart of the rebellion.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.

Herald's Correspondence.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon intelligence was received that since 5:30 this morning the fiercest and most sanguinary battle of the whole war has been in progress. All the corps de armie which McClellan had taken with him to Frederick were massed at the point indicated, and the engagement is believed to have been between the whole of the two armies. There is reason to suppose that the losses on each side are great, as requisitions for medical stores and arrangements for wounded men to be sent to Rockville immediately, are larger than have been made at any time. Information has been received that McClellan destroyed the acqueduct at the mouth of the Antetam creek, and the bridge across that creek, upon the road leading to Sharpsburg, thus cutting off the retreat of the rebels in the direction of Shepardstown.

LATER.

Reports from Hagerstown state that this afternoon the rebels are retreating in great disorder, and subsequently heavy and rapid firing was heard in the direction of Williamsport, which induces the belief that McClellan has pursued the retreating rebels to that point; that they made a stand there to cover the passage across the Potomac. A reconnoisance made by Col. Diver's cavalry, who made a dashing foray towards Hanover in June from Fredericksburg, and now under command of Heintzelman, shows that since Friday last the rebels have evacuated Leesburg, and that a force of 10,000 men, with 30 pieces of artillery and a supply train two miles in length, has gone in the direction of Harper's Ferry.

Information received here which, however, is not deemed altogether reliable, that a large rebel force is marching northward upon the other side of Bull Run Mountains. Measures have promptly been taken to ascertain the truth of this report. A gentleman of this city who is conversant with the region about Sharpsburg, says that the Potomac can be forded at Shepardstown, at Antetam Creek, at Dam No.4, and at Harper's Ferry.

A letter received, to-night, from Lieut. Russell, 96th Pennsylvania, states their loss at the battle of Pass of the Blue Ridge to be 150. Major Martin and Lieut. Dougherty are killed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—10 P. M.

Special to Times.—Very little is positively known here in regard to to-day's fighting, except the fact that the contest is still going on. Government has preserved silence in regard to whatever information it possesses. We learn from official sources that the tenor of the advices is favorable to the Union cause. Private dispatches, believed to be correct, inform us that the enemy had destroyed the turnpike bridge over Antetam Creek, and had thrown up rude earthworks to defend the fords of said stream.

LATER.

We learn that they have been driven steadily back towards the Potomac, and it was believed that the fighting was mainly by the rebel rear guard, which was contesting the advance of our troops and covering the retreat of the main body.

A special train with medical stores and surgeons leaves here, to-night, for Frederick. Heavy firing was heard, to-day, in the direction of Drainsville which tends to the belief that one of our columns may have encountered a foe in that neighborhood. If so, our knowledge of the force and its eaders leaves us in no fear of the result.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17—Evening.

Reports just come in state that the whole rebel army have been driven this way, and are retreating to Hagerstown. D. H. Hill is killed. Ten thousand Pennsylvania militia will meet the foe at Hagerstown to invade Pennsylvania backwards. A severe engagement occurred, yesterday, between our army and the rebels, near Sharpsburg, in which the enemy was well thrashed with terrific slaughter; 500 of their dead were buried by us, early as 9 a. m. to-day, and the work is still going on. This morning the battle commenced near Keedysville.

Jackson joined Lee's forces at Antetam Creek, while our forces were reinforced by 30,000 men from Washington. Jackson's reinforcements to Lee are reported 40,000.

LATER.

My last advices state that victory illuminated our standards, and the impression prevails at Hagerstown that the whole rebel army of Virginia is annihilated. Confidence prevails here, and enthusiastic admiration of McClellan and the army. We have undoubtedly won great and decisive victories both yesterday and to-day. Among our trophies are whole batteries, and thousands of small arms and prisoners.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.

A demand was made from the headquarters of the army of the Potomac for surgeons and medical supplies. Surgeon General Hammond accordingly sent from Washington, and caused to be sent from the eastern cities, first class surgeons to the number of 100. He also dispatched thither a large train of medical supplies. Immense hospital accommodations are being provided about Washington. Gen. Hatch arrived here, to-day; he was wounded in the right leg.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 17.

Over 1,200 prisoners captured in recent battles, arrived here this evening, and will be sent north to-morrow.

BOSTON, Sept. 17, 6:30.

Train for Newburyport, when passing through Wenham, collided with an excursion train. Two firemen killed; some 30 or 40 more or less injured.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.

Special dispatch dated Hagerstown, 17th, says Tuesday's fight raged with great spirit. The firing on either side was very heavy until towards sundown, when the rebels were flanked by Hooker and Porter and severely punished. Their fire slackened and it was evident their ammunition was failing. This morning the battle was renewed by the rebels with great vigor. They acted as if they had been reinforced and furnished with fresh ammunition.

The battle lasted till 4 P. M., when the rebels retreated, leaving Longstreet and the remnant of his division in our hands, prisoners. The entire rebel army will be captured or killed. There was no chance left for them to cross the Potomac, as the river is raising and our troops pushing them and continually sending prisoners to the rear. Six batteries of artillery belonging to Longstreet's division were captured yesterday and to-day. It is said we have taken nearly 15,000 prisoners since Sunday.

Stonewall Jackson's army is with Lee, and with other distinguished officers will be forced to surrender within a day or two at farthest. Our immense army is in motion, and our generals confident of ultimate and decisive success. Burnside has retaken Harper's Ferry, and is advancing on a special mission with his corps. Gen. Hooker is wounded in the foot.

It is reported here (special from Hagerstown) that Miles re-enacted his Bull Run scene at Harper's Ferry, which was surrendered to the rebels in a shameful manner. Stores for our army are coming by way of Harrisburg and Baltimore.

FORT MONROE, Sept. 15.

Steamer Vanderbilt arrived this morning with about 110 Union paroled prisoners from Aiken's Landing, 16th. Last evening the balance of the paroled Union prisoners passed through here en route for Annapolis, where they have been taken, amounting to 2,512. Some were too sick to leave Richmond.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.

Private dispatches, to-day, from points near Harper's Ferry seem to confirm in all essential particulars the good news published this morning, and leave no reasonable doubt of the recapture of Harper's Ferry and Williamsport.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 18.

The following private dispatch from Gen. Hooker, we are allowed to make public:

CENTREVILLE, Md., Sept. 17.

To O. V. Braynard.—A great battle has been fought, and we were victorious. I had the honor to open it, yesterday afternoon, and continued till 10 o'clock this morning, when I was wounded and compelled to quit the field. It was fought with great violence on both sides, and the carnage has been awful.

I only regret that I was not permitted to take part in the operations until they were concluded, for I had counted on either capturing their army or driving it into the Potomac. My wound has been painful but not one that will be likely to lay me up. I was shot through the foot.

Federal Re-Occupation of Frederick.

FREDERICK CITY, MD., Saturday, September 13, 1862.

Thank God! we have at last found a truly loyal town in Maryland. The advance of Gen. Burnside's command approached this city a little before six o'clock last evening, having passed from Rockville to New Market, and thence to this city. When within half a mile of town the pickets of Stuart's cavalry was discovered and driven in. At the main street (Patrick) a battery of two pieces was posted, which was opened upon our advance without doing any damage. Gen. Burnside sent a battery to the front, one gun was speedily dismounted and the other silenced by our fire, when the 6th New York cavalry made a charge up the street, and soon cleared the town of about 1,500 of Stuart's cavalry—the rear guard of the rebel army. One dead rebel was found, and seven so badly wounded as to be left behind. On our side one man was killed, and several were more or less severely wounded. Gen. Burnside then entered the town at the head of his column, and a more magnificent reception was never awarded to man. The people illuminated their houses, the stars and stripes were thrown to the breeze, patriotic songs were sung, handkerchiefs were waved, houses which had been closed for days were thrown open, and officers and men were invited in, and the best the city could afford urged upon them, without money and without price. Gen. Burnside's passage through the citizens eager to thank and bless him as their "deliverer." Ladies crowded about and insisted upon kissing his hands, and from the balconies of private residences he was showered with boquets of flowers. Old men and women shed tears of joy, and the young and middle-aged cheered. This is no overdrawn picture; it will give the reader only a faint idea of the happiness imparted to the people of this place by the approach of a Union force to protect them from the gentlemanly Stuarts, Lees, Johnsons, etc., of the rebel army. Of course, there is to be found here and there a secessionist in this city, so there is in New York, but these are the exception, and not the rule.

To-day the city presents a most brilliant appearance—the troops are everywhere greeted with cheers, the waving of flags and handkerchiefs, as they pass along the streets—stores and houses are thrown open—young ladies and misses throng the streets, wearing miniature flags, and one feels as he passes along that he is indeed a welcome visitor.

Col. E. Kimball of the 9th New York, (Hawkins' Zouaves,) this morning received a private note notifying him that a certain house contained a number of rebel recruits. He visited the place and secured nine of the rascals. Not less than a thousand rebel soldiers have been found concealed in cellars, barns, hay racks and garrets, and, for the most part, they are shoeless, and a very forlorn looking set of men. The first of the cavalry are now in search of a body of 5,000 rebels, said to be concealed in a piece of woods near by.

As I write there is firing in the direction of Fairview, a little town in the Catoctin Mountain, five miles distant. Gen. Burnside's force has gone in that direction.

SUFFRAGE TO SOLDIERS.—The Madison Journal of yesterday says—"The bill providing for allowing the soldiers in the field to vote at the general election, passed the senate yesterday afternoon, by a strict party vote. Sen. Clark spoke against the bill, on the ground of expediency, admitting its constitutionality. It went into the assembly this morning, and was referred to the select committee on that subject. It will be opposed in that body with zeal, but we are not prepared to believe that a measure so obviously just to the brave and patriotic men who have gone forth to fight the battles of the Union, will be defeated. These men have deprived themselves of all the comforts of home and friends, to fight in preserving our country. Shall we not give to them a voice in the selection of the rulers of that country? We believe that right will be extended to them."

ALLOTMENT IN THE 22D REGIMENT.—Mr. R. F. Frazer, one of the allotment commissioners, furnishes the Racine Advocate with the following statement of the allotments in the 22d regiment. Mr. F. says that the amount exceeds that of any other regiment in the state, and it will be seen that Capt. Miles' company has the largest of any company in the regiment. The aggregate is $9 a month for each man, and a total of $116,004 for a year. Such an example is truly commendable and praiseworthy.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills.—How strange and wonderful it often seems to us that a medicine composed of simple mountain herbs and roots, should so certainly search out and cure disease. How surprising that the Indians should know and preserve so long and well a secret that has escaped the search of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen. True, the ancient inhabitants of Mexico were a strange race, found by the Spaniards living in large cities, and allowing for their strange customs and religion as well civilized as their conquerors. In the words of a writer of some celebrity, "They have perished from the earth, their cities are gigantic piles of ruins, their Kings and Princes so mighty in their life, are forgotten; their rugs and their medicine alone are left." The united testimony of all intelligent persons is, that JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS are the most successful medicine in the world in curing disease.

The War in Maryland.

Our forenoon dispatches, although they do not give us a clear idea of the series of battles which have taken place during the last four days, in Maryland, opposite Harper's Ferry, all tend to the conclusion that the rebels have, so far, been badly whipped. Yesterday's news indicated that they had generally left the Maryland side of the Potomac, but it now seems that this was not the case. Our forces have got between them and the river, while they appear to be making every exertion to cross.

Stonewall Jackson was yesterday reported to be in Virginia, at Harper's Ferry, but he now appears to have joined Lee with 40,000 men, on Antetam Creek, in Maryland, probably not far from the battle ground of Sunday. This hardly looks like the utter annihilation of the rebel army, as some of the dispatches report. Possibly he may be there with fresh troops to guard the rear of the retreating rebel army.

It will be noticed that heavy firing was heard yesterday, in the direction of Drainesville, 15 miles from Washington on the south side of the Potomac. This would indicate that a corps of our army is advancing to the scene of conflict on the Virginia side of the river. As we have not heard the name of Sigel mentioned in connection with the battles near Frederick, we may suppose that he leads the army into Virginia, and that he had met some of the enemy south of Leesburg. It would be very convenient to have an army of fresh troops in the rear of the rebel army to prevent their retreat, either by Leesburg or up the Shenandoah Valley. We hope Sigel is there for that purpose.

The news this afternoon is still better. Burnside has retaken Harper's Ferry, the rebels were defeated in a terrible battle yesterday, the Potomac river is rising, and the rebel army in Maryland is hemmed in on every side and must surrender. We have already taken 15,000 prisoners, including the remnants of Longstreet's division. We may expect, however, to hear of terrible loss on both sides, as both armies fought with desperation.

Organizing the Militia.

Gov. Yates, of Illinois, has issued a proclamation calling for the organization of two hundred companies of troops under the militia laws of that state, to repel invasion or to be used as a reserved force in case of emergency. Agents have been sent to purchase arms for twenty regiments. As soon as they arrive the companies will be formed into regiments. In the meantime these companies are ordered to meet for drill once a week. This does not interfere with the organization of the ordinary militia of the state, which is to proceed under the new enrollment.

The governor of Illinois acts wisely in putting his state on a war footing. The times are perilous and require vigilance. Our people should accept the necessity of their position and become better acquainted with military duties, so that they may be prepared to defend their homes and their dear bought liberties, whenever attacked. A well armed and thoroughly drilled people can never be enslaved, if they possess a martial spirit, such as we know prevails the American nation. In the long years of peace we have dreamed that there was to be no more war, and that the golden age of a millenium was advancing. But our philosophy has carried us beyond the real condition of mankind. There is as much selfishness as ever, and there is as great danger from ambitious military demagogues, as in any age of the world. Perhaps we as a nation now stand on the brink of some unseen gulf, prepared by a usurper, from which we alone can be saved by the prompt arming of the people of the states. In times like these we should prepare for the worst.

We are, therefore, glad to see our own legislature promptly passing a militia bill, so that Wisconsin may take her stand, her people armed and organized for war, alongside of Illinois, in any emergency which these bloody times may have in store for our country.

Splendid Conduct of Wisconsin Troops.

A GLORIOUS RECORD.

Correspondence of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11, 1862.

On Saturday, August 9th, King's division, consisting of Hatch's, Doubleday's, Patrick's and Gibbon's brigades, was at Fredericksburg, where it had been stationed some six or seven weeks, guarding the line of the Rappahannock River. The brigades were thus composed:

Hatch's—2d regiment Berdan Sharpshooters, 14th New York militia, 22d, 24th and 13th New York volunteers.

Doubleday's—56th Pennsylvania, 76th and 95th New York.

Patrick's—20th New York militia, 21st, 23d and 35th New York volunteers.

Gibbon's—2d, 6th and 7th Visconsin volunteers, and 19th Indiana.

Attached to the division were four batteries of artillery, viz: company B, 4th United States artillery; company D, Rhode Island; company I, New Hampshire; and company L, 1st New York—in all 24 pieces, 12 Napoleon 12-pounders, six 24-pounders howitzers and six rifled 3-inch ordnance guns.

On the afternoon of the 9th a telegraphic order was received from Gen. Pope, directing the division to join him at Cedar Mountain, 43 miles distant, where a severe battle was fought on the same day, between Jackson's forces and the corps of General Banks. The leading brigades were put in motion the same evening, the others followed at daylight, and the whole division effected its junction with the forces of Gen. Pope on the evening of the 11th.

From the 11th to the 18th the division remained in position around the base of Cedar Mountain, there being occasional skirmishing in front, along the line of the Rapidan, with the outposts and pickets of the enemy. On the 18th it was ascertained that Gens. Longstreet and Jackson, with a force variously reported at from 100,000 to 150,000 men, were advancing to attack Pope, who had not over 50,000. It was decided that Pope's army should fall back beyond the Rappahannock and there await reinforcements known to be coming up. The movement commenced the same evening. King's division marched early Tuesday morning, August 19th, and nightfall reached the Rappahannock. On Wednesday they were placed in position on the north bank of the river. Very early on Thursday morning, the enemy, who had followed up closely, opened fire from the south bank of the river. Our batteries promptly replied and the artillery duel continued, at intervals, for three successive days. The division was drawn up by brigades, within supporting distance of the batteries, and a small force of the enemy's cavalry and infantry, who had ventured to cross the river, was driven back, with loss, by the skirmishers of the 2d and 6th Wisconsin and other regiments.

On Saturday came the news of the enemy's raid in our rear, and the capture, or destruction of a part of our train at Catlett's. The train of King's division escaped; the guards attached to it having gallantly repulsed three separate attacks of the enemy's cavalry. In consequence of the enemy's movement, Pope's army moved from the Rappahannock to Warrenton, where they arrived on the evening of the 23d. On the 25th the division advanced to the Sulphur Springs, seven miles, to watch the fords of the Rappahannock and the movements of Jackson's forces on the south side of the river. Here they remained until the 28th, under fire much of the time and having one or two sharp skirmishes with the enemy's advance.

On Thursday, the 28th, it being evident that the great body of the enemy had passed round our right and was threatening our rear, Pope's army was ordered back towards Manassas. King's division was directed to move through Warrenton to Gainesville, and thence towards Centreville. Late in the afternoon, when the leading brigade, (Hatch's) had got three or four miles beyond Gainesville, Gibbon's brigade, following on the same road, fell in with and was attacked by a superior force—infantry and artillery—of the enemy, forming, as was afterwards ascertained, the right wing of Jackson's corps. The brigade was instantly deployed in line of battle, the 6th Wisconsin on the right, next the 7th, the 2d and the 19th Indiana. Campbell's artillery, placed in position, opened fire, very effectively, on the enemy. Doubleday's brigade was ordered up to Gibbon's support, while Hatch was recalled and Patrick hurried up, to take position on the right and left.

Meantime the fire of the enemy, both artillery and infantry, became exceedingly hot. The sixth Wisconsin, advancing in line of battle under this fire, coolly and steadily, was halted by its heroic colonel, Cutler, at the proper distance, dressed on the centre, and then deliberately opened its fire. On the left, the nineteenth Indiana and second Wisconsin, engaged at close quarters and admirably led, were making fearful havoc in the enemy's ranks. The seventh Wisconsin, moving up into position, between the sixth and second, and being partially masked by the lattter, first obliqued to the left, and then, finding itself exposed to a flank as well as front fire, first silenced the last; then, under its gallant colonel's orders, changed front forward on its left company, as coolly as if on drill, and crossing its fire with that of the second and nineteenth, effectually checked the threatening advance of the enemy's line. In this way, for an hour and a half, and until it grew so dark that it was no longer possible to distinguish objects, the fierce fight continued. The enemy made repeated and desperate attempts to dislodge Gibbon's brigade, but in every instance their advancing columns, melting away under the withering fire of a steady front, were compelled themselves to fall back. Night, at length, put an end to the conflict, and each side became occupied in gathering up the dead and wounded. Gibbon's brigade, on whom the brunt of the action had fallen, suffered fearfully. Col. O'Conner, of the second, and Major May, of the nineteenth, were mortally hurt. Col. Cutler, of the sixth, Col. Robinson, Lieut. Col. Hamilton and Major Bill, of the seventh, and Major Allen, of the second, all received severe wounds. The proportion of killed and wounded among the officers was unusually large, showing how gallant an example they had set to their men. The total list of casualties in the brigade, 782 killed, wounded and missing, told how bravely they had stood their ground and defied the utmost efforts of the enemy. Lieut. Col. Hamilton, shot through both thighs, his horse wounded under him, and falling dead at last on the field, remained with his regiment an hour after he was hit, and until, in obedience to orders, he withdrew it from the ground and posted it in line along the road by which the column had been marching. So far as is known, not an officer or man of the command flinched from his post, or failed of his duty. Tried by the severe ordeal of battle, the brigade has justified its high reputation, and proved worthy representatives of Wisconsin and Indiana.

It was nine o'clock before the firing ceased. Then came the question, what next is to be done? The enemy, in greatly superior force, barred the way by which the division was advancing. The only alternative was to deflect to the right to join the bulk of Pope's army in the vicinity of Manassas. This indeed involved the painful, yet unavoidable necessity, of leaving behind our killed and wounded. These latter were placed in charge of Dr. Ward, of the 2d, and Dr. Green, of the 19th Indiana, and made as comfortable as our means permitted. Soon after midnight the division took up its silent march toward Manassas, and effected, unmolested, the desired junction.

Early on Friday morning (Aug. 29) several divisions of Pope's army, including King's, were put in motion towards the battle field of Bull Run, and became engaged, at various intervals during the day, and in various positions, with different corps of the enemy. It was rather a series of conflicts between isolated divisions or corps, than a great battle between two contending armies. Whether from imperfection in the original plan, misunderstanding of orders; or failure, from causes unknown, of some divisions, or corps, to take up, in season, the places assigned to them, the result of Friday's fight was inconclusive. King's division bore its part, and was in its place during the day, though not so seriously engaged as on the day preceding. Both sides slept on their arms, anticipating a renewal of the contest in the morning.

With the dawn of Saturday (Aug. 30th) active movements commenced. The morning was mainly occupied, on both sides, in shifting the positions of different corps, placing artillery in eligible points, and reconnoitering each other's lines and operations. Beyond the discharge of an occasional gun, little occurred to show that two large armies lay in immediate proximity to each other, watching the opportunity to fall on. Midday, indeed, had passed and the afternoon was well advanced before the battle was fairly joined; but when it did commence it was in bloody earnest. For several hours the roar of artillery and rattle of musketry was fearful and incessant, without perceptible advantage on either side. At five o'clock the fire was at its height, the thunder of the cannon continuous and the infantry vollies one unbroken peal. It was about this time that the left, pressed by superior numbers, began slowly to give ground. King's division was in this part of the field and gallantly maintained the reputation they had so bravely won two days before. Gradually, regiment after regiment, brigade after brigade, withdrew from the fire and pressed, some in order, some in confusion, to the rear. Gibbon's brigade, formed in two lines, undismayed by the unfavorable aspect of the battle, presented its steady front to the enemy, only falling back when ordered to do so, as their flanks became exposed by the retiring of their supports on the right and left.—They fell back, as they had advanced, in perfect order; no break in the ranks, no panic among officers or men. The 6th Wisconsin, the very last to retire, marched slowly and steadily to the rear; faced to the front again, as they reached their new position, and saluted the approaching enemy with three cheers and a rattling volley. Every Wisconsin man who heared those cheers, felt his heart thrill with pride for the gallant fellows who gave them.

The giving way of the left wing decided the second battle of Bull Run against us. The whole army took up its march for Centreville. But it was a retreat, not a rout. Our exhausted troops fell back, slowly and sullenly. Gibbon's brigade covered the rear, not leaving the field till after nine o'clock at night; gathering up the stragglers, as they marched; preventing confusion, and showing so steady a line that the enemy made no attempt to molest them.

On the 31st, the division took up ground in rear of Centreville, and two days afterwards, with the rest of the army, fell back to the lines around Washington.

This brief narrative would not be complete without a statement of the loss sustained by the division during the three memorable days, August 28th, 29th and 30th. It is as follows, in killed, wounded and missing, there being very few of the latter:

Hatch's Brigade	773
Doubleday's Brigade	447
Patrick's Brigade	563
Gibbon's Brigade	894
Artillery	46
	2,723

The effective strength of the division, when it went into action, on the afternoon of the 28th, was about 8500. The loss, therefore, was very nearly one-third of the whole force engaged, and that of Gibbon's brigade almost forty per cent. These figures tell their own story. Well may Wisconsin feel proud of her gallant sons of the Second, Sixth and Seventh regiments. Their names belong to the roll of our country's heroes. BADGER.

Legislative.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 17.

In the SENATE, the bill in relation to the enrollment of the militia was considered in committee of the whole. An amendment was adopted making all between the ages of 18 and 45 liable to service. A motion to exempt members of fire and military companies was rejected by a unanimous vote, and another amendment to exempt certain city officers was lost. The bill was then passed. A resolution to adjourn sine die on the 20th inst. was laid over.

In the ASSEMBLY, Mr. Guernsey presented a petition of the supervisors and other citizens of the town of Porter for the passage of an act legalizing the vote of a town meeting for raising money for volunteer bounty.

A communication from Attorney General Howe was read, in relation to the constitutionality of allowing volunteers the right of suffrage, in which he gave a decided opinion in favor of the measure.

The bill to extend the benefits of the bounty fund to all volunteers, and to levy and raise a tax for the same, was read a third time and passed; all present voting in the affirmative with the exception of Mr. Platto.

The senate bill, to enable the militia and volunteers to exercise the right of suffrage, was read first and second times and referred to select committee on that subject.

IMPORTANT DISPATCH.—The Madison Patriot says: A dispatch was received last night from Gen. Pope, requesting that no more regiments should be sent from the state. A dispatch was also received from Maj. Gen. Wright, at Cincinnati, urging the sending on of Wisconsin regiments. With these conflicting orders before him, the governor telegraphed to Washington for instructions, and the departure of the 25th regiment has been delayed until they are received.

JUSTICE TO THE SOLDIERS.—The following is the vote in the senate on the passage of the bill allowing citizens in the army to vote:

Ayes—Senators Bartlett, Bean, Browne, Flint, Foot, Hazleton, Hay, Hopkins, Humphrey, Jenkins, Joiner, Kingston, Kelsey, Montgomery, Spooner, H. S. Thorpe, West, Wilkinson and Young—19.

Noes—Senators Clark, Cunning, Hicks, Hudd, Huebschman, Keogh and Pratt—7.

Last Night's Report.

OSHKOSH, Sept. 17.

At the democratic congressional convention held in this city, to-day, Hon. John Fitzgerald was nominated for congress from this district.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.

The following extract from a letter received at the war department, dated Mesilla, Arazonia, Aug. 15th, 1862, shows with how little an army may be moved. It must be remembered that the California troops marched through a desert country where no provisions or forage could be obtained, therefore everthing for horse and man was carried with them; yet, with a train with less than that of a regiment not marching fifty miles from Washington, they have averaged fifteen miles a day for nearly sixty days. The first infantry and cavalry California volunteers have successfully marched one thousand miles, over the route by the Colorado desert, Gila river, Tucson and Mimbreez, from the Pacific to the Rio Grande. This they have done with the loss of ten men by Indian and rebel skirmishes, with abundant supplies and a serviceable train, and reached the western border of Texas in condition for immediate contest with the enemy. Officers and men have shared the hardships of march alike, without tents and without baggage. One wagon was sufficient to transport ten days' rations and the property of each company. For fully half the distance, over burning districts, in mid-summer, with scanty supply of water, the men have uncomplainingly carried their knapsacks. They have only been too well satisfied at every step that carried them nearer to the heart of the rebellion.

To-Day's Report.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.

Herald's Correspondence.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon intelligence was received that since 5:30 this morning the fiercest and most sanguinary battle of the whole war has been in progress. All the corps de armie which McClellan had taken with him to Frederick were massed at the point indicated, and the engagement is believed to have been between the whole of the two armies. There is reason to suppose that the losses on each side are great, as requisitions for medical stores and arrangements for wounded men to be sent to Rockville immediately, are larger than have been made at any time. Information has been received that McClellan destroyed the acqueduct at the mouth of the Antetam creek, and the bridge across that creek, upon the road leading to Sharpsburg, thus cutting off the retreat of the rebels in the direction of Shepardstown.

LATER.

Reports from Hagerstown state that this afternoon the rebels are retreating in great disorder, and subsequently heavy and rapid firing was heard in the direction of Williamsport, which induces the belief that McClellan has pursued the retreating rebels to that point; that they made a stand there to cover the passage across the Potomac. A reconnoisance made by Col. Diver's cavalry, who made a dashing foray towards Hanover in June from Fredericksburg, and now under command of Heintzelman, shows that since Friday last the rebels have evacuated Leesburg, and that a force of 10,000 men, with 30 pieces of artillery and a supply train two miles in length, has gone in the direction of Harper's Ferry.

Information received here which, however, is not deemed altogether reliable, that a large rebel force is marching northward up on the other side of Bull Run Mountains. Measures have promptly been taken to ascertain the truth of this report. A gentleman of this city who is conversant with the region about Sharpsburg, says that the Potomac can be forded at Shepardstown, at Antetam Creek, at Dam No.4, and at Harper's Ferry.

A letter received, to-night, from Lieut. Russell, 96th Pennsylvania, states their loss at the battle of Pass of the Blue Ridge to be 150. Major Martin and Lieut. Dougherty are killed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—10 P. M.

Special to Times.—Very little is positively known here in regard to to-day's fighting, except the fact that the contest is still going on. Government has preserved silence in regard to whatever information it possesses. We learn from official sources that the tenor of the advices is favorable to the Union cause. Private dispatches, believed to be correct, inform us that the enemy had destroyed the turnpike bridge over Antetam Creek, and had thrown up rude earthworks to defend the fords of said stream.

LATER.

We learn that they have been driven steadily back towards the Potomac, and it was believed that the fighting was mainly by the rebel rear guard, which was contesting the advance of our troops and covering the retreat of the main body.

A special train with medical stores and surgeons leaves here, to-night, for Frederick. Heavy firing was heard, to-day, in the direction of Drainsville which tends to the belief that one of our columns may have encountered a foe in that neighborhood. If so, our knowledge of the force and its eaders leaves us in no fear of the result.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17—Evening.

Reports just come in state that the whole rebel army have been driven this way, and are retreating to Hagerstown. D. H. Hill is killed. Ten thousand Pennsylvania militia will meet the foe at Hagerstown to invade Pennsylvania backwards. A severe engagement occurred, yesterday, between our army and the rebels, near Sharpsburg, in which the enemy was well thrashed with terrific slaughter; 500 of their dead were buried by us early as 9 a. m. to-day, and the work is still going on. This morning the battle commenced near Keedysville.

Jackson joined Lee's forces at Antetam Creek, while our forces were reinforced by 30,000 men from Washington. Jackson's reinforcements to Lee are reported 40,000.

LATER.

My last advices state that victory illuminated our standards, and the impression prevails at Hagerstown that the whole rebel army of Virginia is annihilated. Confidence prevails here, and enthusiastic admiration of McClellan and the army. We have undoubtedly won great and decisive victories both yesterday and to-day. Among our trophies are whole batteries, and thousands of small arms and prisoners.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.

A demand was made from the headquarters of the army of the Potomac for surgeons and medical supplies. Surgeon General Hammond accordingly sent from Washington, and caused to be sent from the eastern cities, first class surgeons to the number of 100. He also dispatched thither a large train of medical supplies. Immense hospital accommodations are being provided about Washington. Gen. Hatch arrived here, to-day; he was wounded in the right leg.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 17.

Over 1,200 prisoners captured in recent battles, arrived here this evening, and will be sent north to-morrow.

BOSTON, Sept. 17, 6:30.

Train for Newburyport, when passing through Wenham, collided with an excursion train. Two firemen killed; some 30 or 40 more or less injured.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.

Special dispatch dated Hagerstown, 17th, says Tuesday's fight raged with great spirit. The firing on either side was very heavy until towards sundown, when the rebels were flanked by Hooker and Porter and severely punished. Their fire slackened and it was evident their ammunition was failing. This morning the battle was renewed by the rebels with great vigor. They acted as if they had been reinforced and furnished with fresh ammunition.

The battle lasted till 4 P. M., when the rebels retreated, leaving Longstreet and the remnant of his division in our hands, prisoners. The entire rebel army will be captured or killed. There was no chance left for them to cross the Potomac, as the river is raising and our troops pushing them and continually sending prisoners to the rear. Six batteries of artillery belonging to Longstreet's division were captured yesterday and to-day. It is said we have taken nearly 15,000 prisoners since Sunday.

Stonewall Jackson's army is with Lee, and with other distinguished officers will be forced to surrender within a day or two at farthest. Our immense army is in motion, and our generals confident of ultimate and decisive success. Burnside has retaken Harper's Ferry, and is advancing on a special mission with his corps. Gen. Hooker is wounded in the foot.

It is reported here (special from Hagerstown) that Miles re-enacted his Bull Run scene at Harper's Ferry, which was surrendered to the rebels in a shameful manner. Stores for our army are coming by way of Harrisburg and Baltimore.

FORT MONROE, Sept. 15.

Steamer Vanderbilt arrived this morning with about 110 Union paroled prisoners from Aiken's Landing, 16th. Last evening the balance of the paroled Union prisoners passed through here en route for Annapolis, where they have been taken, amounting to 2,512. Some were too sick to leave Richmond.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.

Private dispatches, to-day, from points near Harper's Ferry seem to confirm in all essential particulars the good news published this morning, and leave no reasonable doubt of the recapture of Harper's Ferry and Williamsport.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 18.

The following private dispatch from Gen. Hooker, we are allowed to make public:

CENTREVILLE, Md., Sept. 17.

To O. V. Braynard.—A great battle has been fought, and we were victorious. I had the honor to open it, yesterday afternoon, and continued till 10 o'clock this morning, when I was wounded and compelled to quit the field. It was fought with great violence on both sides, and the carnage has been awful.

I only regret that I was not permitted to take part in the operations until they were concluded, for I had counted on either capturing their army or driving it into the Potomac. My wound has been painful but not one that will be likely to lay me up. I was shot through the foot.

Federal Re-Occupation of Frederick.

FREDERICK CITY, MD., Saturday, September 13, 1862.

Thank God! we have at last found a truly loyal town in Maryland. The advance of Gen. Burnside's command approached this city a little before six o'clock last evening, having passed from Rockville to New Market, and thence to this city. When within half a mile of town the pickets of Stuart's cavalry was discovered and driven in. At the main street (Patrick) a battery of two pieces was posted, which was opened upon our advance without doing any damage. Gen. Burnside sent a battery to the front, one gun was speedily dismounted and the other silenced by our fire, when the 6th New York cavalry made a charge up the street, and soon cleared the town of about 1,500 of Stuart's cavalry—the rear guard of the rebel army. One dead rebel was found, and seven so badly wounded as to be left behind. On our side one man was killed, and several were more or less severely wounded. Gen. Burnside then entered the town at the head of his column, and a more magnificent reception was never awarded to man. The people illuminated their houses, the stars and stripes were thrown to the breeze, patriotic songs were sung, handkerchiefs were waved, houses which had been closed for days were thrown open, and officers and men were invited in, and the best the city could afford urged upon them, without money and without price. Gen. Burnside's passage through the citizens eager to thank and bless him as their "deliverer." Ladies crowded about and insisted upon kissing his hands, and from the balconies of private residences he was showered with boquets of flowers. Old men and women shed tears of joy, and the young and middle-aged cheered. This is no overdrawn picture; it will give the reader only a faint idea of the happiness imparted to the people of this place by the approach of a Union force to protect them from the gentlemanly Stuarts, Lees, Johnsons, etc., of the rebel army. Of course, there is to be found here and there a secessionist in this city, so there is in New York, but these are the exception, and not the rule.

To-day the city presents a most brilliant appearance—the troops are everywhere greeted with cheers, the waving of flags and handkerchiefs, as they pass along the streets—stores and houses are thrown open—young ladies and misses throng the streets, wearing miniature flags, and one feels as he passes along that he is indeed a welcome visitor.

Col. E. Kimball of the 9th New York, (Hawkins' Zouaves,) this morning received a private note notifying him that a certain house contained a number of rebel recruits. He visited the place and secured nine of the rascals. Not less than a thousand rebel soldiers have been found concealed in cellars, barns, hay racks and garrets, and, for the most part, they are shoeless, and a very forlorn looking set of men. The first of the cavalry are now in search of a body of 5,000 rebels, said to be concealed in a piece of woods near by.

As I write there is firing in the direction of Fairview, a little town in the Catoctin Mountain, five miles distant. Gen. Burnside's force has gone in that direction.

SUFFRAGE TO SOLDIERS.—The Madison Journal of yesterday says—"The bill providing for allowing the soldiers in the field to vote at the general election, passed the senate yesterday afternoon, by a strict party vote. Sen. Clark spoke against the bill, on the ground of expediency, admitting its constitutionality. It went into the assembly this morning, and was referred to the select committee on that subject. It will be opposed in that body with zeal, but we are not prepared to believe that a measure so obviously just to the brave and patriotic men who have gone forth to fight the battles of the Union, will be defeated. These men have deprived themselves of all the comforts of home and friends, to fight in preserving our country. Shall we not give to them a voice in the selection of the rulers of that country? We believe that right will be extended to them."

ALLOTMENT IN THE 22D REGIMENT.—Mr. R. F. Frazer, one of the allotment commissioners, furnishes the Racine Advocate with the following statement of the allotments in the 22d regiment. Mr. F. says that the amount exceeds that of any other regiment in the state, and it will be seen that Capt. Miles' company has the largest of any company in the regiment. The aggregate is $9 a month for each man, and a total of $116,004 for a year. Such an example is truly commendable and praiseworthy.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills.—How strange and wonderful it often seems to us that a medicine composed of simple mountain herbs and roots, should so certainly search out and cure disease. How surprising that the Indians should know and preserve so long and well a secret that has escaped the search of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen. True, the ancient inhabitants of Mexico were a strange race, found by the Spaniards living in large cities, and allowing for their strange customs and religion as well civilized as their conquerors. In the words of a writer of some celebrity, "They have perished from the earth, their cities are gigantic piles of ruins, their Kings and Princes so mighty in their life, are forgotten; their ruins and their medicine alone are left." The united testimony of all intelligent persons is, that JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS are the most successful medicine in the world in curing disease.

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

Who take pleasure in placing their Machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter Stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

BOURBON WHISKEY FOR Medical Use.

Circular to Physicians and Others.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 1, 1862.

The undersigned respectfully calls the attention of the Medical Faculty of the United States, to the following correspondence between a number of the most respectable and influential physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and the writer. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:—

DEAR SIR:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whisky as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacturers of Whisky in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to enquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whisky for the use of the sick. We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. Valentine Mott, Willard Parker, and others

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whisky, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. All orders addressed to Mr. John M Carter, (late Druggist and Apothecary of this city.) now of New York, 176 Washington street, will be promptly attended to.

Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c., I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

Who take pleasure in placing their Machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter Stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

BOURBON WHISKEY FOR Medical Use.

Circular to Physicians and Others.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 1, 1862.

The undersigned respectfully calls the attention of the Medical Faculty of the United States, to the following correspondence between a number of the most respectable and influential physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and the writer. WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:—

DEAR SIR:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whisky as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacturers of Whisky in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to enquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whisky for the use of the sick. Drs. Valentine Mott, Willard Parker, and others:

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper-distilled Bourbon Whisky, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. All orders addressed to Mr. John M. Carter, (late Druggist and Apothecary of this city,) now of New York, 176 Washington street, will be promptly attended to.

Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c., I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
